Benefits of Cooperative Purchasing

Cooperative Purchasing saves agencies time, and time is money. The Cooperative members provide competitive pricing, which a third-party audit agency duly checks to ensure your department receives the best value. It can save agencies 6-12 months or longer than conventional procurement in which agencies hire an Engineering or other firm, pay them for their services, advertise for bids, and deal with all the associated paperwork required for this typical cumbersome procurement process.

We streamline the process and can be under contract within weeks, not months or years, to complete the work needed expeditiously. It saves money by having the Cooperative do all the paperwork and cost verification that a procurement officer would typically do, leaving them with more time.

Saves Time – It typically takes six months to over a year for procurement to award.

Reduces Costs – Fewer hours spent and workload of contracting officers – Eliminates cost estimates by engineers.

Connects Agencies with Top Suppliers – Cooperative Suppliers have networks for every commodity or service.

Delivers Ongoing Value – Builds strong relationships with suppliers to support public agencies better.

Improves the Public Procurement Process – Transparent and third-party verified. All Cooperative Suppliers have been thoroughly vetted by the Cooperative to ensure they are competent, capable, and qualified.
